Alpine County Moves to the YELLOW Tier

At noon yesterday, it was announced that Alpine County has been moved into the least restrictive tier in the Blueprint used by the State of California to quantify risk from COVID-19 infection. We are the only county in the state to achieve this coveted designation! For details on what this means for you and business sectors in Alpine County, please go to:

In other news, the CDC yesterday released guidance for persons who have completed their COVID-19 vaccination series. We are awaiting a response from the California Department of Public Health, but following are the links to guidance and the rationale:

The COVID-19 infection rate in the state and nation is still high, so please do not let down your guard too soon!

Following are links to the latest Public Health Briefs on vaccine eligibility and testing options in Alpine County.

Information is still up-to-date and accurate and will be updated as needed.
